"That plan to give Capt. George Curry a rousing reception in Santa Fe and a more pretentious inauguration than any other governor has had has much to commend it. The people of the territory can afford to assure the new governor of their hearty good will and best wishes, especially while the memory of the sins of the late reform administration is fresh in their minds. They can afford to give Capt. Curry a grander inauguration than has ever been witnessed in New Mexico, for that will be but in keeping with the marvelous advancement the territory has made in recent years. By all means let Capt. Curry's reception and inauguration be one long to be remembered."—Santa Fe New Mexican.

ENGLISH CRIMINAL LAW.

The Difference Between Hard Labor and Penal Servitude.

The difference in Great Britain between hard labor and penal servitude is one of period and treatment. Hard labor varies as to period from a few days to two years, and however well a prisoner behaves himself the sentence is never shortened. There are two classes of hard labor.

In the first class the punishment administered consists of six to ten hours' work at the treadmill, the crank or the capstan, or at stonebreaking or shot drill. In the second class the hard labor really consists of such punishments as may be decided by the justices in session.

Penal servitude is the modern substitute for transportation beyond the seas.

A term of penal servitude begins with nine months' hard labor in a probationary prison, and after that the convict is employed on public works in a penal settlement. The work is comparatively light, and in most prisons a well behaved man gets off pretty easily. In addition to this, by virtue of a system of marks for good behavior, he has always before him the possibility of reducing his sentence by at most about one year in five.

BREAKING OF THE VOICE.

It Is Caused by an Organic Change in the Larynx.

The peculiar physiological causes of what is called the breaking of the voice are not quite understood, but it is known to depend immediately upon an organic change in the larynx, the organ of the voice, which occurs in the male sex between the ages of fourteen and sixteen. Before that the larynx of boys resembles that of girls, but when the voice begins to break the vocal chords become lengthened at least one-third, the angle of the thyroid cartilage becomes enlarged, and the muscles which connect the organs of the voice with the hyoid bone and the base of the tongue become elongated.

While the change of form is taking place the voice is unfitted for singing and should be used only with great care. In other words, the breaking of the voice is due to the rapid development of the larynx, which takes place at certain ages and which leads to a change in the range of the voice. The peculiar harshness of the voice when it is thus breaking seems to be due to a temporary congestion and swollen condition of the mucous membrane of the vocal chords accompanying the active growth of the whole larynx.

Almost every mediaeval monarch claimed the whole or a part of the dominions of almost every other and insisted on inserting his claim in his list of official titles. In treatises and all official documents the whole list was religiously copied, and as it often happened that the two negotiating monarchs had some of the same titles it became usual to insert a clause in the list, non praesudicando, in order to indicate that, no matter how absurd, inappropriate or untrue were the titles, they were understood to be inserted because they pleased the monarch who claimed them, that they did not confer a valid claim, and so no harm was likely to result from their use.
